Nose

Everybody likes chocolate! We all know that adding chocolate to anything as a flavoring always makes that thing still more enjoyable! The same holds true in the manufacture of smoking tobacco.

All smoking tobaccos use some flavoring. That is the secret of the delicate, agreeable, pure fragrance of Tuxedo. The finest of carefully aged burley tobacco + a dash of pure chocolate gives that fragrance "Your Nose Knows" from all other tobaccos.

leggers and other participants in illegal practices are deductable from gross income in determining net income subject to tax. The internal revenue bureau decided the question today in passing upon inquiries of professional gamblers in New York, Chicago, Boston and other cities and from a lone query of a Southern ex-moonshiner. The bureau's attitude is that income even from an illegal business is taxable and that lagses in connection with this business are deductable, but not to an extent exceeding carnings from the business. Tax collectors, according to this attitude, are concerned with collecting revenue, and not prosecuting linegal businesses. Consequently they will regard as confidential any disclosures of illegal source of income. This inquiry came from a Southern state. School Board And Joint Committee Meet Wednesday

"I was engaged last year in the business of making whisky which the revenue says is illigal. I was raided by the revenues and my still was taken and I was fined. I have now quit the business, but want to know whether I have to make income return on the money I made off the whisky and whether I can deduct the loss of the still and the fine could be deducted.

Similarly the proprietor, of a gambling house whose place was raided and whose furniture and gambling equipment was destroyed, was permitted to deduct the value of the turnishings in calculating net taxable income. Poker players must include winnings in their income, but may deduct losses only if they do not exceed winnings.

Taxpayers of these classes may report their earnings as "other income," or under some other classification not disclosing illegal source of the carnings. ON SUGAR INTO STATE Edouard Dupont, Veteran of Big Battles, Will Speak Thursday Night.

As an event of unusual interest in Memphis will be the uncering to be held March 15, under the auspires of the American committee for devastated France, of which Edward-Barrow is chairman at which time Maj. Edouard Dupont, a French veteran of the war and a member of the French high commission in Washington, and Mrs. Lindsay Patterson, of Winston-Salem, N. C., chairman Southern division of the American committee, will speak at the Goodwyn institufe, Thursday evening, March 12 at 8 o clock.

These two have a message which is as authentic as it is graphic and human. Maj. Dupont fought through such battless as that, of the Marne, of the Somme, of Champagne, from the time he was called from the reserves in 1914 until October, 1917, when he was sent to this country as a special instructor for zenior and staff officers. Since the signing of the armistice he has been attached to the commission in Washington.

Although a banker in Paris at the signing of the armistice he has been attached to the commission in Washington.

Although a banker in Paris at the time of the outbreak of the war, Maj. Dipont's home is near Chateau-Thierry, in a village called Essomes-sur-Marie. The town, pitfully devastated, like thousands of others, is now a grave-yard of American soldiers for it was here that the Second division of the Uinted States army fought slide by side with the French troope. Maj. Dupont will speak on the peace conference from the French point of view, the messace of Germany and the new nations in their relations to European polities. He will close with a tribute to the Southern soldiers in France.

Mrs. Patterson will tell some of the experiences of Miss Anne Morgan, who is for the second time engaged in reliabilitation work in the invaded area of France. Mrs. Patterson has many friends throughout the South whom she has made through her prominent connection with various civic and patriotic activities. She is vice-president general important state chairmanships. She is recognized as one of the most able women in the South.

Mrs. Frank Mebane, of Spray, N. C., one of the Souths fair women who contributed much services to the cause of freedom, and who is widely known as a social worker, will be one of-whe speakers. She will give a Southern woman's tribute to the Southern soldier.

MRS. MARY ROGERS, LONG TIME RESIDENT, IS DEAD

Mrs. Mary Rogers, aged 88 years, widow of the late Dr. John C. Rogers, and a resident of Memphis for 56 years, died at the home of her son, Vernon L. Rogers, 355 North Bellevue Boulevard, Monday morning at 8 o'clock after an illness of one week. Complications due to her advanced age are given as the cause of her death.

Mrs. Rogers, who was born in Madison county, Tenn. had made Memphis her home for more than half a century and it was while caring for the sick in 1978 that her busband was taken ill and died. Mrs. Rogers was one of the best known and most generally beloved of older residents.

Surviving are two children, V. L.

Surviving are two children, V. I. Rogers and Mrs. L. R. Robertson, of Memphis. Several grandchildren also survive, these being Mrs. J. B. Thomason, of Memphis; Mrs. Charles Phelps, of Nashville; Mrs. Bertha DeVold. of Boston; John C. Rogers, Mary L. Rogers, James T. Rogers and V. L. Rogers, Jr. all of Memphis.

CANNOT USE WAR POISON

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Poison gas developed in war can not be used to clear American farms of insect and rodent pests. Secretary Lane has decided, after investigation. Experiments showed that while nests were killed, there was danger of the gas spreading and destroxing live stock and persons living nearby, in case the wind should carry the fumes.

Suggestion had been madely farmers that the deadly gases might prove of great value in destroying the boll weevil in the South and gophers in the prairie states, saving millions of dollars spent in slower methods.
